Sponsorship Packet

About Us

Teens Exploring Code (TEC) is an organization composed of students from Palo Alto High School. We are sponsored by the City of Palo Alto through the Bryant Street Garage Fund. Last year, we hosted TEC 2015 as a conference-style event, which attracted over 100 diverse participants from across the Bay Area.

What We Believe

- ❖ All students should have the opportunity to explore computer science, regardless of their demographic characteristics or surrounding influences
- ❖ There is a need for a hackathon that targets first-time coders and first-time hackathon attendees
 - We can fill this niche by providing an unintimidating environment for participants of all levels. More information on our website, teensexploringcode.org

Reasons to Sponsor

- ❖ Recruiting/publicity access to 300 participants and their families
- ❖ Publicity to thousands of potential participants around the Bay Area and their families
- ❖ Develop brand recognition among next generation of innovators
- ❖ Support the continuation of Teens Exploring Code

How You Can Sponsor

Our sponsorship system is managed in tiers. The tiers (shown on next page) correspond to the monetary value of your donation. There are many ways to sponsor us, including:

- ❖ Direct monetary donations
- ❖ Donation of products
- ❖ Fixed discount on products
- ❖ Donation of venue
- ❖ Prize items for winning teams
